

Elimination or substantial loosening of the ownership restriction rules is a very bad idea. It will further limit the spectrum of voices and ideas that are available to us. This elimination will be a blow to our democracy and should be turned down by the commissioners. If the elimination goes through, our children will pay a heavy price for short term gains on Wall Street